CEMITERIO DOS RIBEIRINHOS

A photograph of a cemetery with several wooden crosses on a dirt ground, surrounded by dense tropical trees. The crosses are made of light-colored wood and are scattered across the area. The ground is covered in dry leaves and twigs. The background is filled with tall, thin trees and lush green foliage.

A black bird is perched on a thin, bare tree branch. The tree's branches are dark and intricate against a pale, overcast sky with soft, white clouds. The bird is positioned in the upper-middle part of the frame, facing left. The overall scene is a naturalistic photograph of wildlife.
